Timeless Cube National Museum of Afghanistan Kabul, Afghanistan
Mehro-Caher Architects

TEXT BY SHARON KWONG

The National Museum of Afghanistan is a landmark project in Kabul, Afghanistan, designed by Mehro-Caher Architects. The building is a prime example of modern architecture in a traditional setting, featuring a large, angular, concrete structure with a central courtyard and surrounding landscape. The design is a response to the need for a new national museum that reflects the country's rich history and culture.
