The magic of nature and its ability and power once again invites us to reconsider a new coexistence with the environment. The tale of the 'magical beans' connecting humans to nature as a form of tactical creativity will offer the residents of the city a new way to stay well and fit and to connect to a 'new world' through nature's lymphatic system.

The enchanted park celebrates the ability of nature to redesign its own territory, its landscape, its meaning and its relationship with the constructed world.

Matteo Cainer Architecture is an interdisciplinary practice, with a distinct conceptual approach to architecture and design.
